GOOD ROADS AGAIN
SCORE IN CONGRESS

$65,000,000 AUTHORIZED FOR 1923
AND $75,000,000 IN '24 UNDER
TWO YEAR PROGRAM

Washington, April 8.—Good roads have won another victory in congress, but it was necessary for the proponents of federal aid to yield a little ground to the opposition.

An important change in the two year authorization bill, which has just been reported to the house by the roads committee, limits the amount of federal aid that may be expended on a mile of road to $12,500 in 1923 and $10,000 in 1924. The present maximum is $20,000 and was increased from $10,000 when war prices hit road materials.

Now, on the 50-50 basis, $40,000 can be expended on a mile of road, but in 1923 the limit will be $25,000 and in 1924, $20,000.

Chairman T. B. Dunn of the roads committee, who led the opposition, sought to have the maximum reduced at once to $7,500 a mile.

Advocates of federal aid tried to get through a three year program, but were compelled to accept two. An appropriation of $65,000,000 is authorized for 1923, and $75,000,000 the following year.

As amended by the senate the post-office appropriation bill carries $50,000,000 for federal aid in road building next year. The bill is in conference. Road boosters in the house will try to get the sum increased to $65,000,000 in conformity with the road bill authorization.

Two important changes in the federal aid law are provided in the new legislation. One fixes a heavy penalty fine or imprisonment, or both, for making false reports in regard to road work. The other change provides that in cases where federal aid money has been allotted for a project and the work is not under way within one year, the money shall revert back to the general fund and shall be redistributed among the various states. The plan is to make the states really use the money.

SERIOUS DISORDERS
IN THE COAL FIELDS
OF NEW MEXICO

TWO COMPANIES OF NATIONAL GUARD CALLED OUT QUELL
DISTURBANCES

(By United Press.)

Gallup, New Mexico, April 8.—Two companies of national guards under a cavalry squadron arrived here early to quell the serious riot and disorder in the coal fields near here.

Martial law has been enforced by the troops under orders of Governor Mechem. The detachment was commanded by Adj. General Henry Rolf.

The chief riot which resulted in the order for troops was because friends of striking miners stoned non-union workers.

Roads leading to the mines were crowded when the non-union workers went to work, and many fights resulted, although no deaths were reported.

Government Intervention Possible

Indianapolis, Ind., April 8.—Government intervention in the coal strike depends today upon whether non-union mines can produce sufficient tonnage to carry the nation through the summer without drawing too heavily upon a depleted 65,000,000 ton reserve.

Herbert Hoover and other officials at Washington are closely watching reports from open shop fields to ascertain whether they can produce coal enough to meet day by day needs.

If they can not, then the Harding administration will take the strike in hand. The show down will come within the next week.

Non Union Miners Join Strike

New York, April 8.—More than 50,000 non-union miners have joined the ranks of the United Mine Workers in their nation wide strike, President J. L. Lewis told the United Press in an exclusive interview today.

"The number is steadily growing," he said.

The strength, from the standpoint of the union organization, he maintained, is splendidly efficient, and functions one hundred per cent.

Federal Troops Refused

Washington, April 8.—Secretary of War Weeks today refused the request of Governor Merritt G. Nechem of New Mexico for aid of federal troops in connection with the coal strike trouble here.

The request was made by the governor in a telegram received by the secretary of war today.

CROSS SEA FLYERS
TELL STORY OF TRIP

BUCKED HEAVY GALE ON SECOND
LEG; MADE NINETY MILES
AN HOUR

(By United Press.)

Platopol, Santiago, Cape Verde Islands, April 8.—The thrilling story of their long flight through clouds and fog at over 90 miles an hour, which they hope to continue, until they have crossed the Atlantic and landed safely in Brazil, was told for the first time by the Portuguese aviators today in an interview with the United Press.

Captain Coutinho, who for some time has been a pilot both at sea and in the air, was reviewing the flight which brought them to this little island. "Wait until we have completed the flight" was the attitude of both the captain and Sacadura.

Nevertheless, in their little cabin on the Republic, which brought them here for the possible starting place for the third and most perilous leg of their journey, the real "hop" of more than 1,300 miles across the Atlantic to the islands just off the South American coast, Captain Coutinho related their flight.

"We left the bay at Gando, Portugal, for Cando, about half past seven in the morning," he said. "After we were out some distance, we ran into a stiff wind which was blowing a gale of 25 to 35 knots an hour. For over half of the distance of our long flight, we were buffeted by this gale. Then the wind fell and drifted to a north-west wind, and was lighter for the rest of the journey."

"Our first journey, from Lisbon to the Canaries, we made in good time and without much trouble. But on the second leg of our journey we encountered most unexpected trouble. The terrific vibration of our engines affected the compass. Captain Sacadura had to get his bearings entirely by the sun and wind. We flew south and west for the Cape Verde Islands. We flew at an altitude of four hundred meters, above the clouds because of their denseness."

"We were entirely alone. We only saw one steamer on our journey, and that was only a smudge of smoke on the sea."

"We had food with us, but we were too busy with the machine and our anxiety to keep our bearings to bother about eating. About four hundred miles out we got our first glimpse of land. We pounded each other and motioned. Our second flight had been a success."

"It was Nicalau Island. With this as our bearings and my observer, we made a good landing. Our speed had been ninety miles an hour, but we slowed down to seventy as we neared the island."

WHEAT GROWERS
STAND TO LOSE A MILLION DOLLARS

IF PROPOSED CHANGES IN GRAD-
ING STANDARDS ARE MADE,
SAYS JACOBSON

(By United Press.)

St. Paul, April 8.—Wheat growers of the northwest stand to lose a million dollars if the proposed changes in the present grain grading standard goes through.

This declaration was made by O. P. E. Jacobson, state Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner today in a statement explaining his objection to changes suggested by Henry Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture.

"If the purpose of the Department of Agriculture was to confer some relief or benefit to the much harassed grain growers of the northwest the attempt has been a complete failure," said Jacobson.

"Although the present wheat standards are generally uncertain to the farmers, they at least give the grain a definite standing as a commercial commodity, and both buyers and sellers know exactly what they are buying and selling."

If the proposed changes are promulgated, a great deal of grain will lose its definite standing, and will have an indefinite position, and will be under suspension as long as it is on the market.

VIVISECTION IS UPHELD BY NOTED
MEDICAL EXPERT

Minneapolis, April 8.—Vivisection in the interest of medical research is upheld by Dr. James M. Anders, Philadelphia, president of the American College of Physicians.

Dr. Anders spoke at the annual meeting of the college in Minneapolis last night. "There is much opposition to such experimentation, chiefly upon sentimental grounds," he said. "It is well meant, he said, but should not stand in the way, which is a necessity to the progress of medical research and a boon to humanity."

Abandonment of the national cliques and encouragement of internationalism was urged by Dr. Anders, not only as a benefit to the United States, but because it would have a definite influence on the economic reconstruction of the world.

FARMER GETS PREUS
OUT OF "BAD HOLE"

GOVERNOR, STRANDED IN MUD
WITH CAR, RESCUED AT EARLY MORNING HOUR

Minneapolis, April 8.—Elmer Albertson, a farmer living near Northfield, probably is too tired and sleepy today to realize that he has distinguished himself with Minnesota's first citizen. Frightened by voices in his farmyard today, Albertson hurried out of bed, lighted a lantern and peered outside. Strangers moved about in the darkness.

"We're stuck, hub deep, can you give us a lift with one of your teams?" asked a voice. The speaker was Governor J. A. O. Preus, returning with a party of three by automobile to Minneapolis from Faribault, where he addressed the Builders' show. Until Albertson was aroused, the governor and his party had visions of spending the night cuddled in blankets in the automobile.

Four times Albertson pulled the state car out of the mud and then he drove the team, hitched to the automobile, in horsecar fashion, a distance of four miles, until a point was reached between Northfield and Lakeville, where the wheels could traction.

Governor Preus reached Minneapolis at 5:10 a. m. today. Members of his party said they were nine hours on the road between Faribault and Minneapolis.

JUDGE DAY WILL TELL STORY OF
SHOOTING TODAY

(By United Press.)

Oklahoma City, April 8.—Judge J. P. Day, millionaire, was to tell the coroner's jury today how he killed Lieut. Col. Paul Ward Beck in defense of his home and his wife's honor.

Judge Day was to be the chief witness at the coroner's investigation starting at 2 p. m. The story which the white-haired wealthy oil man will tell is the same as he has repeated several times since the killing. The main points are as follows:

That a party of friends, of which the handsome officer was a member, had spent the evening at the judge's home. Cards were played, but nothing except near beer was had to drink. That the judge left to take other guests home, leaving Mrs. Day and Beck at home. When he returned he saw Mrs. Day struggling with the guest to the house. That he went up stairs, got his revolver and started to drive Beck from his home. That Beck clenched his fists and showed fight. That he started to hit Beck over the head with a revolver, and it exploded, instantly killing the man.

BREAKS up FEVER

A chiropractor would rather get a fever case than anything else. Why? Because it is a common thing for fevers to break up after one or two adjustments have been given.

Fever is excessive heat brought about by certain subluxations; as soon as the subluxations are adjusted and Nature can work normally again, the fever disappears.

FARM PRICES BETTER

THE PRICES of farm products are not only much higher than six months ago, but they are higher than they were in the fall and winter of 1913 and the spring of 1914. That period is taken for comparison because the only crop harvested and sold during peace times under the Wilson administration was the crop harvested in the fall of 1913. The 1914 crop was not harvested when the European war broke out and at no subsequent time during the Wilson administration were conditions and prices normal. These facts explain why Democrats who a few months ago were jibing the Republicans over "Republican prices" for farm products are now singing low.

The farmer is better off today, at the prices he is now receiving, than he was during the peak of prices in war times, because the purchasing power of his money is greater today than it was then. Farm implements have been radically reduced in price, and farm wages are approaching the pre-war basis. Wheat at the present price will buy more of almost any commodity than wheat at $2.20 during the war. This year's crop will be produced at a less cost to the farmer than any crop raised since 1912-13.

The banks all appear to have plenty of money, and between them and the War Finance Corporation the farmer is not experiencing much difficulty in getting the money or credit needed to carry him along until harvest.

With a reasonably fair year, the farmers will probably be in better shape after the harvest next fall than for many years past. There is a general feeling of optimism in the agricultural states. Everyone believes that the worst is over and that from now on improvement in agricultural conditions will be not only steady but rapid.

RESTRICTING FIREARMS

A STRONG movement has developed throughout the country to prohibit the sale or carrying of firearms except by Federal permit, and it is understood that a bill will shortly be introduced in Congress for that purpose.

Legislation of this character should be very carefully considered from every angle before it is enacted into law. The trouble is that there could be such a thing as too stringent regulation of the firearm evil. No one is willing to believe that the criminally inclined individual who has murder in his heart will be deterred for one instant by such a law from obtaining a weapon. The thug who is capable of killing is certainly also capable of obtaining the instrument with which to do the deed. A restriction law in such a case serves only to prevent the householder and law abiding citizen from providing himself with an adequate defense.

There is another thing to consider, too. That is, that such a matter is well within the police powers of the states, which, from their knowledge of local conditions, they can probably handle far more effectively than the general government at Washington.

In these days when hold-ups and other robberies, both night and day, have become practically an every-day occurrence in almost every community, business men and respectable citizens generally should not be prohibited from carrying firearms in self-defense, but on the contrary should be encouraged to carry them, and to use them should occasion require.

DIGEST OF ELECTION LAWS

THE PUBLICATION of an accurate and simple digest of the election laws of every state of the Union before the next primary election was the first recommendation of the efficiency in government department of the National League of Women Voters following its institute held in Chicago last December. Minnesota is the first state to complete its work of rearranging and simplifying the state's election laws so as to put them in a form intelligible to every voter. A forty-page book containing a digest of the election laws has just been issued by the efficiency in government department of the League in this state, which Minnesota delegates will carry with them to the national convention of the League at Baltimore.

THE GENOA CONFERENCE

THE MUCH talked of Genoa economical conference will open next Monday. Adroit diplomacy will be required to keep the conference within bounds, and prevent it from developing into controversies that will preclude any real accomplishment. Discussion of German and Russian questions are likely to reveal bitter divergence in the views of some of the nations at Genoa. Were the United States to be represented at the meeting it could hardly fail to take sides in such debates, thereby inevitably losing some of the prestige gained at the Washington conference. Happily this country will not be at Genoa, and will be free from all the entanglements that will result.

SHRINKAGE IN REVENUE TAX

SECRETARY MELLON now expresses the opinion that despite a falling off of more than $60,000,000 in the expected government receipts from income and profits taxes for March, the shrinkage in internal revenue collections for the fiscal year ending June 30 is not likely to be substantial, in view of collections of back taxes and increased collections of miscellaneous internal revenue. For the fiscal year 1923 he estimates a falling off of $215,000,000 in collections of income and profits taxes.

MEMBERS of the Railway Labor Board declare that the Board will not bargain away the nation's railroad wages for lower rates, but will fix what they consider just and reasonable wages in accordance with the directions of the Transportation act.

LIGHTING PLANT ENLARGED

Lieut. Bullock

"Breezy Point", situated on broad Pelican lake north of Brainerd, is getting so well known nationally that tourists from all sections will flock there early in spring when the season opens May 1.

A $20,000 cafe is but one of the many new things planned for this popular summer resort. Capt. Billy Fawcett has had plans drawn for this building which will be built log cabin style, over two stories in height and equipped in modern style.

Lieut. Bullock, well known flier, has been engaged to fly under "Breezy Point" colors. He will superintend the building of a large scout boat capable of shinning over the water at a 40 mile an hour gait.

More cottages are to be built. The lighting plant has been doubled in size in order to care for increased lighting requirements.

In June a trap shooting tournament, under association rules will be staged and shooters from all over the Northwest expect to go to "Breezy Point" and compete at the traps. The grounds face the lake and are among the best in this section.

Manager Hawking was in Brainerd this week buying much equipment and supplies. He was gratified to see the county commissioners were planning to take some of the kinks and grades out of the roadway from Pequot to "Breezy Point".

MOTHER JOINS SON
IN DEATH HERE

When Mrs. Martha Worsham, age 74, was brought to Brainerd from Aitkin for treatment of infirmities from old age, she was accompanied by her son, Arthur Brand, age 37. Mother and son were almost inseparable and had been chums for many years.

She started sinking early in the week. The son took sick with pneumonia and died Thursday night. His mother, unconscious of the fact he had died, lingered a little longer and died Friday night.

A brother, Allan, lives at Haines, N. D. The bodies were sent from the B. C. McNamara chapel to Regan, N. D., where the funeral services will be held.

"THE BAT" COMING

Most Discussed Play (It's Not a Picture) to be Produced in Many Years

Manager A. W. Force of the New Park theatre announced yesterday that he had received the contracts from Wagenhals and Kemper which makes it a certainty that local theatre goers will have the opportunity of seeing "The Bat", probably the most discussed play to be produced in years. "The Bat", Manager Force announces will be seen here Thursday night, April 20.

Of all the new plays to be produced during the past twelve months, there is no doubt that "The Bat", written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood, stands in a class by itself. It has played for a year in New York (and is still there) and for a year in Chicago, a record never before equalled by any play. In the company to be seen here are: Lizzie Evans, William L. Thorn, Lucille Morris, Josephine Morse, Joseph M. Holicky, Charles Cahill Wilson, Arthur Hughes, Edward Pawley, Paul Huber and George Allan Wilson.

VISIT CITY JULY 3-9

(By O. J. Bouma, Secretary of Chamber of Commerce)

We have been accused of suffering from civic anemia. It has been suggested that our town is dead and should be buried with appropriate ceremony.

In order to get the proper perspective and to get the outsiders point of view, concerning the state of our civic well being, we want to invite the world to visit our city during the week of July 3rd to 9th, the occasion being the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of the City of Brainerd.

In order to get in touch with former residents of our city, it will be necessary that each citizen take it upon himself or herself to furnish the committee, one of the newspapers, or the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce with the addresses of former residents.

The time for holding this celebration is not far off. The success of this undertaking will depend upon the hearty co-operation of every one interested in Brainerd and its future.

All together now, let's get behind this Anniversary Celebration and demonstrate to the world that we have faith in our town, that we are proud of it and want the world to know it.

DROWNED IN MISSISSIPPI RIVER

Claude Tucker, 26 Year Old Son, Gives His Story to the Dispatch of Accident

Claude Tucker, who was with his father, when he was drowned in the Mississippi river, was in the city today and through the family has offered a reward of $300 to the person recovering the body of J. J. Tucker on or before April 18.

Claude is 26 years old. On the morning of Thursday he took his father from the store at Ft. Ripley to the Mississippi river, driving his car. Arriving at the bridge, Mr. Tucker said he would get out and read the gauge at the middle pier of the bridge. He has read it for years. The ice had just gone out and this was to be his first reading this season.

Claude opened the door on his side, to jump out and read it, but Mr. Tucker said he would read it, stepped from the car and told Claude to drive the car over the bridge and turn it around.

Claude drove ahead two blocks and turned around, and was gone about two minutes. He drove on the bridge and could not find him. About 100 feet below the bridge he saw a dark object in an eddy and the flash of a white collar. Claude ran back over the bridge to a house near by, thinking they had a boat near the river. The men were not at home and the woman there said they had no boat. He ran back and to another house near the bridge where he found two men. They quickly got a boat and pushed down stream, searching at the point and below where the accident happened.

Claude at no time heard a cry from his father and believes he may have had a stroke and thus fell from the ladder into the water. The ladder rounds were wet. The plank with its gauge markings was in position right near the ladder.

Claude telephoned for help from the authorities of Crow Wing and Morrison counties and the sheriffs of hooks and sent men. Many volunteers assisted in the search and the family is grateful for the help given in the hour of need. Boats were out all day Thursday. On the afternoon the ice came down from above the bridge. An ice jam had formed above the bridge and the water raised about four feet. When the jam gave away it tore away boats and raft, and only two old boats remain.

Mrs. Tucker is prostrated and continually calls for her husband. She never recovered from the loss of losing her youngest son three years ago and this fresh bereavement has completely unnerved her.

SCHOOLS CLOSED FOR THE WEEK

ASSISTED BY ONE JUNIOR

The French II Students Presented Two Plays Under Direction of Miss Pierce

Schools closed for a week. The high school celebrated by having an hour's program given by the Seniors, with the assistance of one Junior, Walter Herman, to whose dramatic ability they owe much and for which they hereby extend their thanks. The program opened with a very beautiful piano solo by Alice R. Johnson, whose rendition is so far above that of the average that we can only say it was excellently played and much enjoyed.

Gordon McPherson gave Riley's "The Little Boy and the Bears" so well that we expected to see him shrink into knee pants instead of being the stalwart youth in "long trousers."

Geraldine Kiebler played "Adoration" on the violin, accompanied by Alice Johnson, with a skill and feeling that held the large audience greatly interested.

The "piece de resistance" was a matter of two plays prepared under the direction of Miss Pierce and performed by her French II students. First they gave a scene from a school in France, with Alice Johnson the teacher and Walter Herman the school inspector, who was vastly pleased with the recitations and especially with the singing of the Marseillaise.

The other play was a translation from the French. Robert Gemmell as the doctor of mental diseases receives his old friend Walter Herman and then leaves him in his office. The maid, Gladys Lagerquist, thinks he is insane, while he thinks the two ladies who enter are out their minds, mistaking one for the Queen of Sheba. He gets more and more worried until finally the doctor returns to introduce the supposed lunatics as his wife and mother-in-law. These parts were taken by Katherine Remmels and Mabel Lami. It was exceedingly well played and vastly appreciated.

Andre Gendron represented a lady who dashed madly for the car, annoyed the conductor and everybody else, boasted of her son and his virtues only to find him outside talking to—horrors—an actress. Between getting off the car and buying lace, the poor lady had a hard time. To the high school students this was a marvelous performance, both for the presentation and because Andre never laughed once.

The program closed with a selection by the orchestra, which played so well that tears were shed because they wouldn't give an encore, but these tears were quickly dried at the announcement of vacation.

Dahl-Erickson

At 11 o'clock Friday morning occurred the wedding of Carl Dahl and Miss Amy Erickson at the parsonage of the Swedish Bethany church, Rev. P. G. Fallquist officiating. The bride was charmingly gowned.

The attendants were Walter Fredstrom and Miss Carrie Erickson, cousin of the bride.

The bride is a very talented girl and the daughter of Mrs. Victor Erickson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles of South Broadway and is the ticket agent of the Northern Pacific depot and is well liked by employers and associates. They went to Minneapolis on the afternoon train for a short honeymoon visit.

Annual Business Meeting Discloses Church Raised $8,000 in Year, $1272 to Missions, Etc.

THE OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

Board of Trustees, Treasurer, Financial Secretary, Treasurer Benevolent Dept., Etc.

The annual business meeting of the congregation of the Presbyterian church was held on Thursday evening. The reports of the various departments showed a successful year. The total amount raised by the church during the year being well over $8,000, of which $1,272 was for missions and benevolences.

At the election of officers Nels Johnson and Allan F. Ross were elected to the session to fill the places of the retiring members, and Carl Bentley was elected to fill the unexpired term of Fred Bierhaus, resigned.

M. W. Down's, J. E. Jackson and W. W. Smythe were reelected to the board of trustees for a term of three years and O. F. Erickson was elected to fill the unexpired term of K. W. Lagerquist, who had left the city. John Carlson was re-elected as treasurer of the congregation and also of the building fund. Mrs. Fred Luken was re-elected as financial secretary. Mrs. M. Robertson was elected to the position of financial secretary and treasurer of the benevolent department of the church.

The church exceeded its missionary apportionment slightly and reports in the hands of the clerk of the Presbytery show that the Brainerd church is the only one in the Presbytery that was able to meet it.

A standing vote of confidence was given the pastor at the close of the meeting and the congregation pledged itself to a loyalty in following his leadership in the new church year.

"Rio Grande" at the Lyceum

With this pictureization of Augustus Thomas' drama "Rio Grande," Edwin Carewe falls in line with the best producer-directors of the screen. "Rio Grande" is on view at the Lyceum theatre tonight only.

"Rio Grande" is a flaming romance of the border. It is a drama that reflects the many moods of the silver stream as it purrs its way through rocky canyons and orange-colored deserts.

The Rio Grande is a River of Blood; a River of Peace. It divides; it unites. Its bridges are of love and that's how Maria Iniz, with her Mexican heart beats, and Danny O'Neil with his American hoof beats, crossed the barrier of the Rio Grande.

Rare and wonderful are the settings. Nature's crowning achievements in rock and stream make a setting in which a jewel of a love story sparkles as brilliant as the red sun shining on the Rio Grande. And action! It just gallops at a merry pace.

FIERY, ITCHING SKIN
IS QUICKLY SOOTHED
WITH THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing subdues fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning itching or disfigurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

Mary Willard, president of the N. Y. & S. R. R., told her that business recognized no sex, and all the time he was planning a raid that he thought would be easy to put over because she was a woman—one of the "weaker sex."

This brief outline cannot begin to do justice to "The Deadlier Sex," Blanche Sweet's newest Jesse D. Hampton-Pathé photoplay coming to the Lyceum theatre for Sunday. It is a comedy drama from the pen of Bayard Veiller, who wrote "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Within the Law."

Added Attraction at Lyceum Sunday

Thousands have read the stories of the "Leather Pushers" by H. C. Witmer in Collier's Weekly. Round 1 will be shown at the Lyceum Sunday matinee and night.

Never Fail to Pull

Of all popular novelists of today, none has appealed more powerfully or persistently when transferred to the motion picture screen than has Zane Grey—whose gripping story, "The Last Trail," filmed by William Fox as a special production is to open an engagement at the Lyceum theatre Wednesday.

Most picture lovers will doubtless recall especially four other Zane Grey stories that were utilized by Fox—all with William Farnum as the star. These were: "Riders of the Purple Sage," "The Rainbow Trail," "The Lone Star Ranger" and "The Last of the Duanees."

"Burning Daylight"

From stagehand to star, summarizes the career to date of Mitchell Lewis signed by Metro to play in "Burning Daylight," showing at the

New Park last time tonight—and later in "The Star Rover," "A Daughter of

Back in 1901, or thereabouts, young Lewis was a grip on the stage of the Syracuse Opera House, and a member in good standing of Local No. 9, I. A. T. S. E. From stagehand to super, and from super to small parts, brought Mitchell Lewis to the cast of "The Chinese Honeymoon" and other musical comedies then in current favor.

Mr. Lewis was on the stage with Nazimova in "Ception Shoals," he played in the first Metro pictures of Harold Lockwood and Viola Dana; he now enacts the red-blooded Jack London heroes for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc.

Barrymore His Own Rival

It is seldom that an actor has the distinction of having his name in electric signs on two of New York's uptown theatres at the same time. Lionel Barrymore recently had the distinction of competing with himself for patronage in two of the leading show houses in New York.

It happened during the week the Strand theatre ran "Jim the Penman" the same production which will be the attraction at the New Park Sunday only. Mr. Barrymore is the star of that production, and immediately after it was concluded he opened a short season in a Broadway house in "Macbeth."

"Ten Nights in a Barroom"

Seventy years have passed since "Ten Nights in a Barroom" was given to the world in book form, and in those seventy years the theme has been converted into plays, which have been seen all over the world by many millions of people. Probably "Ten Nights in a Barroom" is more familiar to the general public than any other book or play, with the possible exception of the Bible, and so the L. Case Russell photoplay version of the drama, which will be seen at the New Park Monday and Tuesday is certain to attract enormous audiences. Everybody who can will see it. And they ought to.

Counting heads, at least a quarter of the population of Providence, R. I.; Woonsocket, Pawtucket, Lawrence, Mass., not to mention Reading, Pa.; Newark, N. J.; Boston, Altona, Utica, Toronto, Philadelphia, saw or will see this picture.

A Complete
Cycle of Service

IN directing the affairs of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) the 7 men responsible for its management and success keep constantly before them the ideals of service which have animated the organization in its development.

They are ever mindful of the fact that the service rendered by this Company bears a close and intimate relation to the progress, success and prosperity of practically every other industry. And that it has a major bearing on many professional and highly specialized branches of business.

They recognize the grave responsibility of supplying petroleum products to those who use the internal combustion engine as a source of power, and to those who depend upon this Company to lubricate their equipment in such manner as to conserve the power and the machinery which it operates.

These are the major and more obvious services rendered, but equal attention is given to problems affecting an individual or a small group.

This service may take the form of expert advice as to the best method of lubricating a single machine, it may be something to reduce the labor of the housewife, or to assist the medical profession in serving humanity. It may be a new kind of pavement or a method to increase or conserve the food supply.

These are but a few of the hundreds of ways in which Standard Oil service, positive and clearly defined, is helping and adding to the efficiency and economy of business generally.

As an example of how far this service is carried, we may mention the recently developed burning oil, Neolite, which supplies a growing demand for an oil used primarily in incubators and brooders, where a steady, unvarying heat must be maintained over a considerable period of time. To those who use incubators and brooders, Neolite is of great value.

While it is probable that the sales of this product will never attain a large volume, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) adds it to its long list of useful products that it may further discharge its obligation in rendering a complete cycle of service to 25 million people of 11 Middle Western States.
